Capacity Building for Community Building Investing in Enhanced Service, Access and Equity

Capacity-Building Champion Commitment

Give - Model the support you hope to encourage from others.

- If you currently donate to the DRC, please consider increasing your annual giving by 50%, or more, for the next three years.
- If you do not currently donate to the DRC, please consider making a personally-meaningful financial commitment to support this effort.
- Please consider making a monthly giving commitment to the DRC via a recurring credit/debit card charge or auto bill-pay through your bank.

Share - Encourage others to support the DRC's capacity-building efforts.

- Share your personal commitment to this effort with your fellow DRC volunteers.
- Ask friends, family and work colleagues to support this effort.
- If you have served as a table host for The Toast in the past, please reach out to and ask your past invitees to give, similar to our in-lieu giving campaign when COVID-19 restrictions forced cancellation of our event last year.
- Consider hosting a "virtual house party", inviting friends, family and colleagues to attend. The DRC will coordinate Zoom logistics and provide staff to present on our capacity-building effort and any specific DRC programs of particular interest to you and your guests.
- Pass along and share communication from the DRC, such as e-mailings and Facebook posts, about our capacity-building and fundraising efforts.

Connect - Link us with organizations where you have connections.

- Introduce DRC staff to key individuals you know at local businesses – large and small, law firms, foundations and organizations.

Advocate - Support Resolution Washington's legislative funding efforts.

- Watch for "DRC Advocacy Alerts" and write to your state legislators as needed to support specific bills as the legislative session progresses.
